

DAY 27: Back to the Future

You've come to the end of the road . . . or is it the beginning? Decide whether to part ways with your first idea and try something else, keep growing it, or simply turn it into an ongoing source of income.

What's next? You decide.

If you've followed the side hustle plan from the beginning of this book, look back at what you've made and decide what happens next.

- Side hustles are not “one size fits all”—figure out if it's something you want to pursue.
- Whether you answer yes or no to the question above, determine what is next for you.
- Take steps that will help you move forward whether that means starting over with a new side hustle, making revisions to your current side hustle, or taking your side hustle to the next level.

I get a lot of questions sent into the show related to (refer to video module) key themes of overcoming analysis paralysis, getting stuck, fears. And one thing to know is that these worries and fears are totally normal. But here's what you can do to combat them:

- Identify a next step, always have a next step in front of you
- Create accountability
- Ask yourself, how does this make me feel?
- Is the problem an external one or an internal one?

Call to Action: Make daily progress. When you have setbacks, take a short break and then get back to it.

###

Don't worry about tracking everything, but do choose two or three metrics to keep an eye on.

Audit your hustle to see where you can make more money, save time, or both.